Lenin statues nowadays

topic to recontextualize Lenin

-exile the statue like he was exiles in his life also several times

-Dunaújváros Lenin statue

-Lenin stature in top of a building (didn't happen eventually)

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Palace_of_the_Soviets

Solution #1 (chosen one)

audio guide

site specific - if you close enough you can hear Lenin speeches and think in yourself about him/it.
+research in Dunaujvarous issues to the speech could reflect it.

example:

against antisemitism

Matyi (26) opinion why he liked Lenin: he think how great that Lenin think through Marx ideas how the worker people couldn't recognize by themself the revolution chance.

“nekem leninben az élcsapat elmélete tetszik a leginkább, (noha azért ezt is érdemes kritikusan kezelni) a lényeg, hogy marxszal szemben ő nem hitt abban, hogy a proletariátus egyszer csak öntudatra ébred és ledobják láncukat és forradalmat csinálnak, hanem azt tartotta, hogy lesznek olyan pillanatok a történelemben, amikor erre lehetőség adódik és azt a lehetőséget kell megragadni. pl széleskörű munkás elégedetlenség, stb.

szerinte a kizsákmányolt proletariátus képtelen a politikai elméletek létrehozására, így ez a polgári értelmiség feladata. és így az ilyen pillanatok meglovagolása is. ezt nevezi élcsapatnak, akik átbillentik tudatosan ezeket a helyzeteket, megszervezik a tüntetéseket, agitálnak, stb és akik a forradalom felé vezetik a tömegeket”

reasons:

intimacy close to the viewer idea -speech to just one person instead of mass translate the audio to hungarian hungarian voiceover to the speech.

be secretive about it with no description near the statue not put it back the original place but near the fence (20 centimeter from fence) facing to the street to be recognized by passengers.

if the viewer is the left side, right side of the statue would have different speeches.

technical stuff: speech activations, after one another not in the same time.

Dunaújváros, Museum of Intercisa placing:

surrounding area,
people who had the experience could spread the word -
gossip about it to others.

Solution #2

size change

- melting the statue and create lots of smaller statue from it installation: same space but one plane to look down them not up to places like bus stop court building
- resculpt the original one to Marx

Solution #3

put it back the original place

-we don't have to destroy the statue or his place (because it was made to be there) we have to think about him differently in our time.

Thank you for your attention 😊
